

Some Critters
Kershaws'
Photos
Canol
Heritage Trail

©Kershaw

Rev. 20210331

Say's Phoebe chicks (M222-2019)

©Kershaw

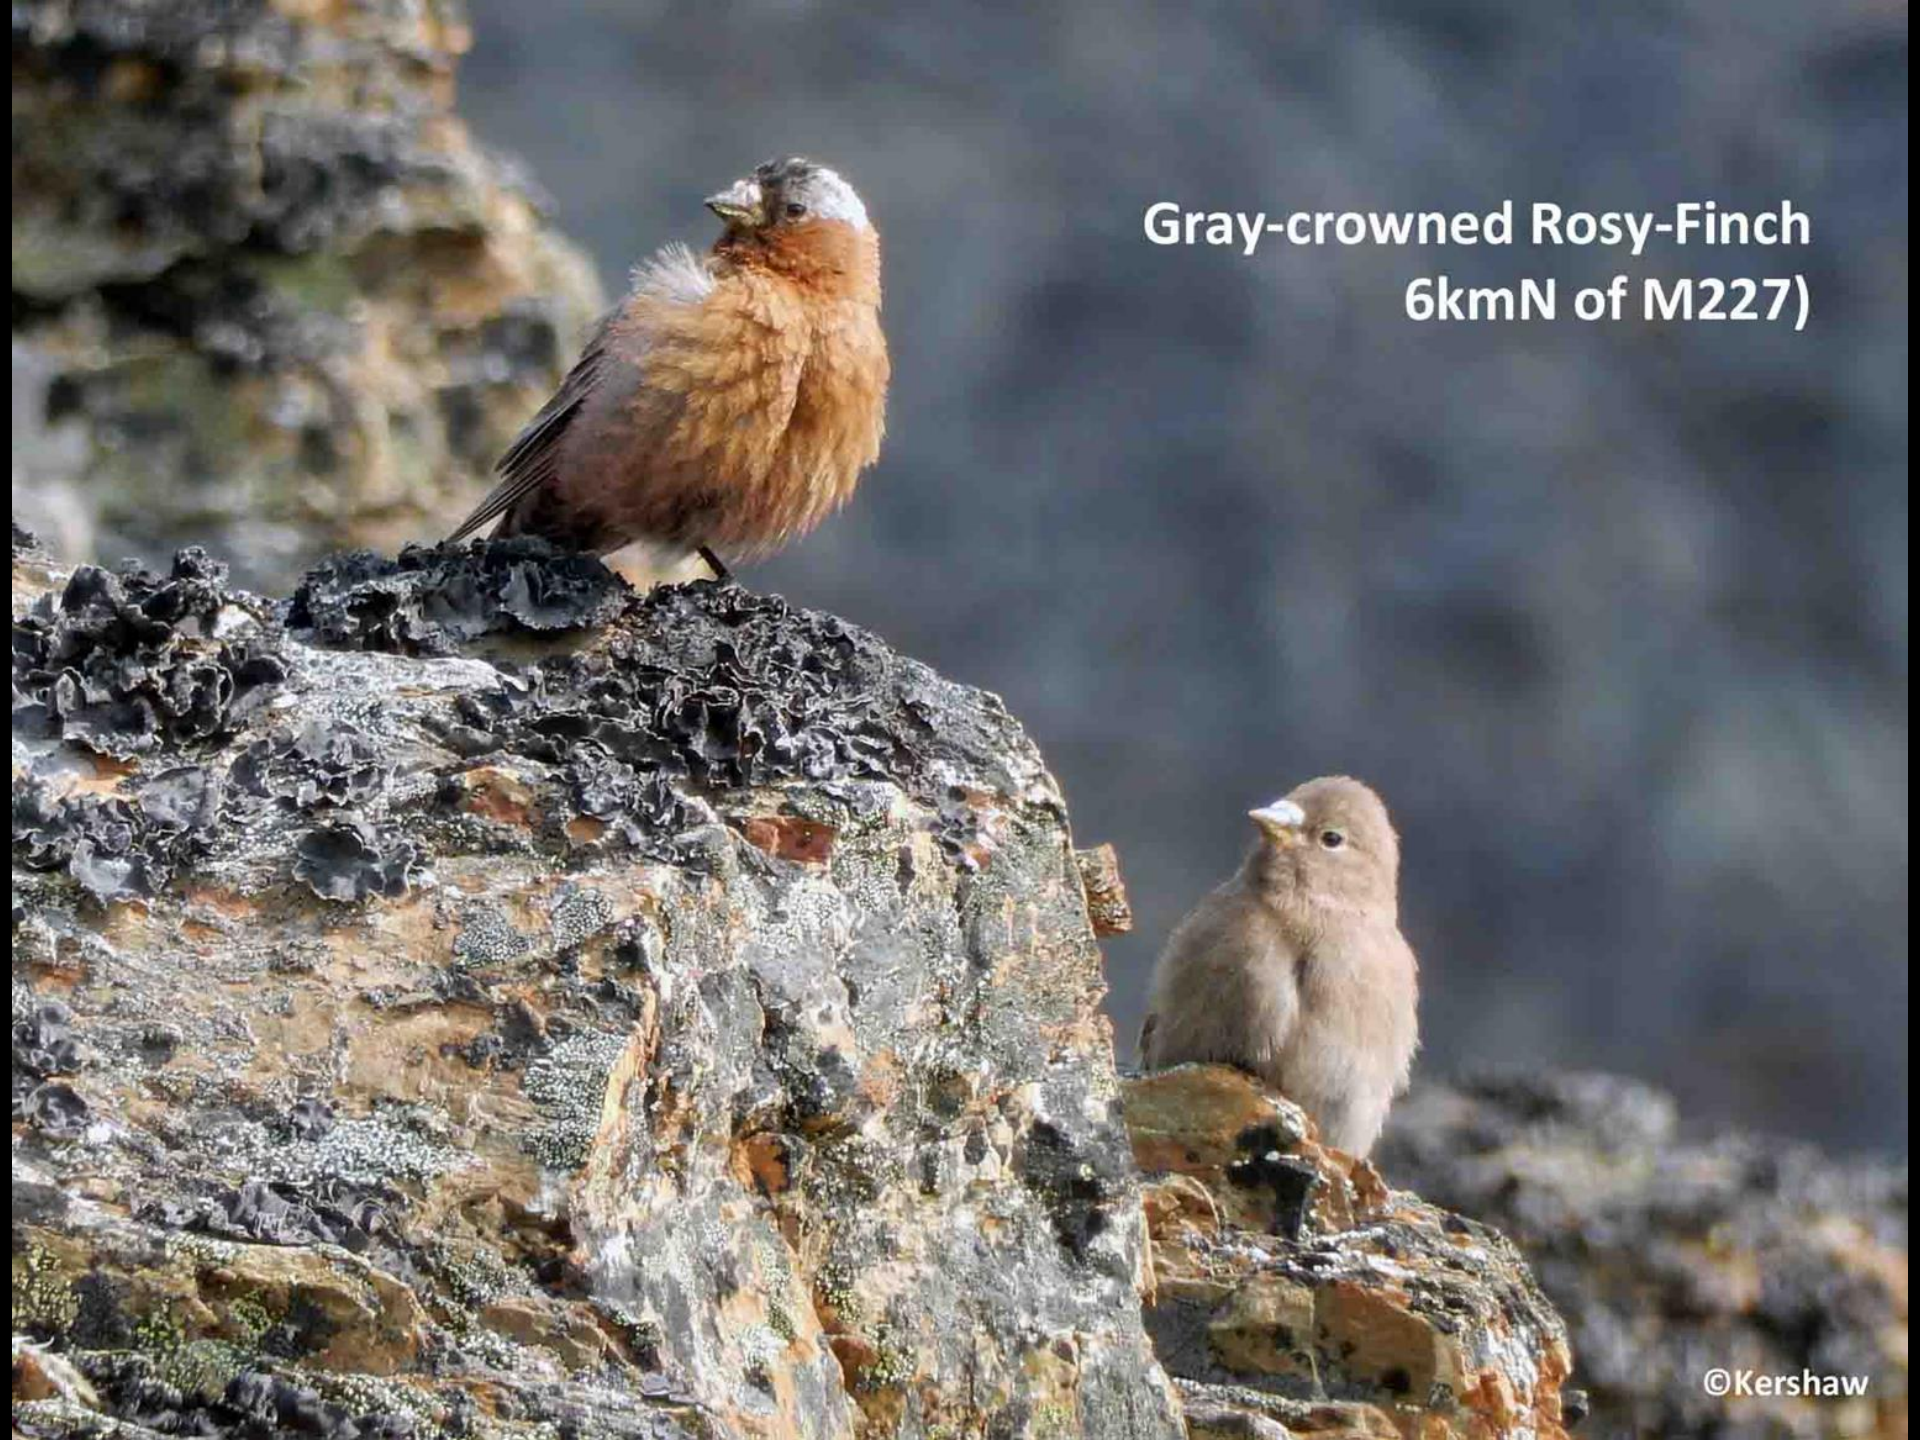

Least Sandpiper

Willow Ptarmigan (M223-2018)

©Kershaw

A photograph of two Gray-crowned Rosy-Finches perched on a rocky outcrop. The larger bird on the left has a prominent white patch on its crown and a thick, rufous breast. The smaller bird on the right is a juvenile with a more uniform brownish-tan coloration. The rock they are on is dark and textured with lichen. The background is a blurred, dark landscape.

Gray-crowned Rosy-Finch
6kmN of M227)

Say's Phoebe (M223-2019)

Surf Scoter (6kmN of M208)

A Northern Hawk Owl is perched on a tree branch, looking towards the camera. The owl has a dark cap with white spots and a yellow beak. The background is a clear blue sky with green leaves and branches.

Northern Hawk Owl
(M214-2010)

©Kershaw

Immature Boreal Owl
(M135.5-2003)

Long-billed Dowitchers (M212-2008)

Arctic ground squirrel (M212-2009)

Gravid woodland caribou at calving time:
Females have antlers (1kmS of M224-2018)

Bull caribou, antlers in velvet, shedding winter coat (M212-2009)

Young Dall's sheep ram (M108-1979)

Red fox (Silver form)(M222.5-1978)

Pika (4kmN of M208)

©Kershaw

Grizzly with cubs foraging above treeline (6km N of M228)

Wood frog (M8-2008)

